Reflections in a spoon

by Beth Copeland in the April 7, 2009 issue

Hunger is a bowl of reflected light, a concave mirror of flight, an image reversed, the breech birth of an angel floating from Earth feet first.