Links? Links.

Here are some things I read recently but didn't get around to blogging about:

- Sitting in on an anti-bullying session for a classroom of fifth graders
- "The urban highway is a failed experiment."
- A remarkable historical find here in Chicago
- Catching up with the nouveau poor
- A very cool guide to avoiding sexism in campaign coverage
- My kids are too good for public school, and other messages I wish wealthy parents wouldn't telegraph
- When ministers are used by politicians
- Why finish books?
- Novels are good for you!
- Would it be too hopeful to expect this delightful post to be the end of Twitter non-users bashing Twitter?
- This public food forest looks amazing.
- I'd say the upscale-taco-stand thing has jumped the shark.

Links are also posted throughout the day in the right-hand sidebar of my main blog page and in this feed.
