

Friday digest

April 20, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Rodney Clapp on the sacredness of family: "If anything remains sacred in our culture, it's the family. Yet Jesus challenged the family's ultimacy."
- James McCarty on reading the Bible in new places
- In which the GOP senators act like public servants
- Lou Carlozo briefly reviews Dion

In the news:

- Evangelicals say it's time for frank talk about sex
- Southern Baptists to probe Richard Land's Trayvon Martin remarks