

Thursday digest

July 26, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Sarah Hinlicky Wilson on her life on the ecclesiastical frontier: "In Strasbourg, my husband and I became ecclesiastical two-timers. Once we'd done that, it was easy to become three-timers."
- Carol Zaleski on 40 years of needlework: "The Plymouth Needlers have finished their work: four giant embroideries, each made to a design by legendary illustrator Pauline Baynes."
- Ryan Dueck on impatience with injustice
- John Petrakis reviews Safety Not Guaranteed