Tuesday digest

April 30, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Philip Jenkins on the 20th anniversary of the Waco siege: "In April 1993, the FBI siege on the Branch Davidian compound ended in disaster. The event still casts a long shadow on our divided nation." (subscription required)
- Debra Dean Murphy on sentimentalism and terrorism
- Steve Thorngate on the hits austerity is taking
- Barbara Rossing's lectionary column for Sunday, May 12 (subscription required)

In the news:

- Fifteen countries cited for religious freedom violations
- N.J. Catholics outraged over accused priest's access to children
- Religious leaders push for kidnapped bishops' release
- Poll: U.S. Muslims more moderate than Muslims worldwide