

Thursday digest

June 13, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- An interview with Lisa Yebuah, pastor of inviting ministries at Edenton Street UMC in Raleigh: "I eventually realized that leaders are not made by books or workshops. Leaders are people who marry their knowledge to action." (subscription required)
- Steve Thorngate on why it isn't surprising that Hillary Clinton's Twitter bio doesn't mention her faith
- MaryAnn McKibben Dana on not being married to her church
- Lou Carlozo briefly reviews Beki Hemingway

In the news:

- 15 years later, religious freedom panel lacks real power
- Southern Baptists condemn gay Scouts policy but won't force a boycott
- 4 reasons why Republicans are rekindling evangelical outreach
- Pope Francis' first 100 days: What we've learned so far
- Pope Francis and Archbishop of Canterbury to meet for the first time