Wednesday digest

December 18, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Another ministry scenario by Ellen Blue: "The pastor seemed happy to meet Evan, and he said positive things about his work for the Calvary Center. Then he noticed Evan's yarmulke."
- o Cynthia Jarvis responds to Blue's scenario
- Jon Sweeney reviews Library of America's Updike collection: "To read Updike is to remember just how upper-middle-class and masculine his fictional universe is."
- Randall Balmer on Pope Francis and the windows he's opened
- Why Carol Howard Merritt loves to say "Happy Holidays"

In the news:

Harold Camping, radio host who predicted world's end, dies at 92