

Monday digest

By Steve Thorngate

October 24, 2011

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blog, news, link blog. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- When Hollywood came calling with a space-rental offer: "According to my understanding of congregational polity, a pastor has the authority to turn down money. But not this much money."
- David Lewicki on parables as simple stories: "I love the sparseness of and the open-ended-ness of this kind of storytelling, especially for these bizarre and complicated parables."
- Bruce Epperly blogs the lectionary: "Micah is clear that focusing solely on our well-being and declaring war on the poor will lead to a cessation of revelation and vision. Does Micah mean that God withholds God's revelation?"

In the news:

- Shifting course, St. Paul's orders protesters out
- Muslim mortgages in limbo after bank collapse
- Vatican blasts 'idolatry' of global markets