

Monday digest

August 6, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- John Buchanan on gun violence: "The Peaceable Kingdom pricks my conscience every time I see it because of the enormous gap between its vision and the world's reality." (subscription required)
- Carol Howard Merritt talks to Montreat about imaginative leadership
- Steve Vineberg reviews Take This Waltz (subscription required)
- Audrey West blogs the lectionary

In the news:

- Missouri to vote on prayer amendment as critics warn of legal nightmares
- Survey: most Americans keep faith private online
- Rabbis aim to inject more morality into business