

Thursday digest

January 3, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Gershom Gorenberg on Zionism's internal conflicts: "Is the goal of Zionism a democratic Israel with a Jewish majority? Or rule of the entire land, from the Mediterranean to the Jordan?" (subscription required)
- Walter Brueggemann reviews Douglas John Hall (subscription required)
- Theresa Cho on verb tenses and ministry
- James McGrath on evolution and the problem of evil
- "Contemplation with red bridge and windy sunshine," a poem by Jeff Gundy
- A brief review of Renaissance Man, by Jaimoe's Jassz Band
- Steve Thorngate's song for Epiphany

In the news:

- Innovative program helps retain Catholic teachers